Forecast For Yorkshire & the Humber
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 20 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry with some warm early spring sunshine.

Today:
Perhaps rather cloudy to start, but some bright or sunny spells should develop through the morning, lasting into the afternoon. Feeling pleasantly warm in the sunshine, and becoming a bit breezier later in the day. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells through the evening will give way to thickening cloud from the north, perhaps bringing the odd spot of drizzle during the early hours. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
Another dry day with variable, sometimes large amounts of cloud but a few brighter or sunnier interludes too. Somewhat cooler than on Saturday, though winds will be light. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Staying dry with some occasional brightness on Monday and Tuesday. Some patchy rain overnight into Wednesday, which may then linger for much of the day, particularly further south.
